MUSCLE SHOALS BID WITHDRAWN BY HENRY FORD

Magnate Says Business
Can Not Wait On Politics

Next Move Is Now Up To
The United States
Said.

Detroit, Oct. 14.—A report that Henry Ford had withdrawn his offer to purchase Muscle Shoals was confirmed here by Edsel Ford, son of the motor car king.

Young Ford declared that the interview in Collier's Weekly to the effect that Henry Ford had withdrawn his bid for Muscle Shoals had been approved by his father.

The article in Collier's Weekly has Henry Ford assuming a waiting attitude by putting the next move up to the government. Ford is quoted as saying that his proposal "has become a complicated political affair" and the bid was withdrawn "because productive business can not wait on politics." Ford continues:

"We have been and still are deeply interested in Muscle Shoals as a national asset. There is small promise now that it ever will be a national asset—more than likely it will be only an expense. That concerns every one of us as citizens. In the Ford business, once we make up our minds to do anything, we go right ahead and do it with the least possible waste of time, energy and money. If we can not do what we want in one way, then we find another. We are moving so fast and the settlement of Muscle Shoals' future seemed so far away that we had to find other means to do the things we could have accomplished at Muscle Shoals. In fact, we have passed Muscle Shoals. Productive business can not wait on politics. Therefore, we are withdrawing our bid."

Ford is quoted as putting the problem up to the government, saying: "We have made out bid; now let them make us a bid. And they will not have to wait three years for their answer. We can tell them in five minutes. The public must not permit Muscle Shoals to be broken up, for through its nitrate production it can be our greatest guarantee for peace on the one hand and for the farmers on the other. I believe the army engineers could carry it through if they were allowed to exercise their own judgment and work unhampered—for they are a fine lot of men. But probably the best course is that suggested by the president—to appoint an impartial commission."

SCRAMBLE ON STOCK EXCHANGE FOR BONDS OF NEW GERMAN LOAN

New York, Oct. 14.—There was a scramble on the New York Stock Exchange at the opening this forenoon for bonds of the new $200,000,000 German loan. They sold to first buyers at 94 3/8, an advance of 2 3/8 points over the offering price of the J. P. Morgan syndicate.

An advance of so much was considered unusual by traders accustomed to seeing jumps of an eighth or a quarter on favored securities.

The banking house of Morgan and Company announced soon after the exchange opened that its books were closed so far as the German loan was concerned, because it was heavily over-subscribed.

Other brokerage houses had taken the same action even before 10 o'clock the hour of opening.

Miners Defy Lewis.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 14.—Miners employed by the Glen Alden Coal company defied the power of John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, by declaring a general strike. The strikers posted pickets at three mines, with the result that these collieries were idle. The general strike was ordered by the grievance committee of the Glen Alden mine because one man was unable to secure work at the Taylor mine. President Lewis ordered the men to remain at their posts under threat of being disciplined, but the warning was ignored.

SEN. BRANDAGEE COMMITS SUICIDE

ECKENER RADIOS SPECIAL REPORT ON TRIP OF ZR-3

(Editor's Note:—The following radiogram was written exclusively for the International News Service by Dr. Hugo Eckener, world's foremost expert upon Zeppelin airships and commander of the ZR-3 which is enroute from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J. Dr. Eckener will write exclusively for International News Service during the flight.)

By DR. HUGO ECKENER
Commander Of The Dirigible ZR-3

(Copyright 1924 by the International News Service)

On Board The ZR-3, Over Mid-Atlantic, Oct. 14—(3:31 a.m.)—(By Wireless To I. N. S.)—West of the Azores we encountered gradually increasing southwest winds, which we were compelled to combat for 12 hours. We took a westerly direction to accomplish this, with a speed gradually decreasing to 30 miles an hour. The wind then shifted to southwest, with a rapidity of 170 meters a second. Having familiarized ourselves with storm conditions, we took a northwest course at greater speed toward the guide ship Milwaukee, which we hope to pass in the morning hours.

Then we will make new plans regarding our course after familiarizing ourselves with weather conditions around the Milwaukee.

"Ship and machinery in best of condition."

PARTY LEADER ENDS HIS LIFE BY TAKING GAS

Body of Republican Solon Found In Bathroom of Home.

Ill Health Believed Cause
—Officials Are Shocked

Washington, Oct. 14.—Senator Frank B. Brandagee, Republican of Connecticut, who for more than twenty years has been a prominent and powerful influence in the councils of his party was found dead in the bathroom of his home here today, under circumstances which pointed to suicide.

Gas was flowing from open jets in the room and after a cursory examination of the surroundings and circumstances the police said it was apparently "a plain case of suicide."

Senator Brandagee, who was a bachelor, has been in ill health for some time.

Senator Brandagee was sixty years old. He got into politics in his native Connecticut soon after his graduation from Yale in 1885. Only three years out of college, he was a delegate to the Republican national convention of 1888, and at most of the succeeding ones, always occupying a place in the councils of the party.

Early in Roosevelt's administration, he was elected to the 57th congress, served three terms and then in 1905 was elected to the United States senate where he since remained.

News of Senator Brandagee's sudden death was immediately transmitted to the White House and became a subject of the government departments, where it came as a shock to the president, cabinet officers and his many political friends.

No reason other than ill health, could be ascribed to the senator's desire to take his own life, according to his friends. They have known for some time that he has been in very poor health. According to the police, no notes, letters or memoranda could be found that would explain the death.

Senator Brandagee apparently had planned his death with consummate care, according to the police.

The body was discovered on the floor of the bathroom on the third floor of his residence at number 1700 I Street, shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. It was fully clothed.

Death had apparently occurred some hours before.

From a gas jet on the wall, a rubber tube ran down to the body, and this apparently had been the method by which the suicide was accomplished.

The body was discovered by a servant at 9:45 and the police immediately notified. D. H. F. Kittredge, who lives next door, also was summoned. The doctor and the police arrived about the same time. Death having occurred some hours before, the body was not disturbed but left for the coroner.

"Rigor mortis had already set in when I reached there," said Dr. Kittredge.

DOMESTIC AFFAIRS NOT TO BE SUBMITTED TO GROUP OF POWERS

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—Secretary of State Hughes declared in a political address here that American sentiment will not tolerate submission of domestic questions to the determination of any group of powers. He did not mention the proposed league of nations protocol by name, but he laid stress on the question of jurisdiction over domestic issues, which, at the behest of Japan, occupied so large a place in the recent discussions at Geneva.

"Recently," the secretary said, "the question has been discussed of the appropriateness of investing a group of powers with the authority to deal with domestic questions, not questions arising under treaties by which parties have limited their rights, but with questions within the competency of a nation as to which it has not limited its rights. The sentiment of this country, I repeat, would not tolerate the submission of such questions which pertain to our own policy to the determination of any group of powers. It would not be willing to enter any organization through which a group of powers would be in a position to intervene or attempt to determine our policies for us."

Auto Goes Into Ditch.
Fostoria, O., Oct. 14.—Henry Moes, 30, was killed and his companion, Isaac La Fontaine, 37, was seriously injured when the auto in which they were driving turned over in a ditch.

Shot Dead by Wife in Love Triangle.

Alexander F. Fedell, wealthy Baltimore, Md., contractor, was shot to death by his wife when she found him and Hermine Ullman in Fedell's automobile. Miss Ullman told the police Mrs. Fedell shot her husband when he tried to choke her.

PROBLEMS OF OHIO BUSINESS WILL BE DISCUSSED AT MEET

Conference To Be Held at
O. S. U. This Month

Columbus, Oct. 14.—Under the auspices of the college of commerce and journalism, a two-day conference will be held Oct. 23 and 24 on the Ohio State university campus in the interests of Ohio business men and others interested in business problems. The conference will be held in co-operation with the fourth annual nationwide observance of "Management Week," Oct. 20 to 25.

The general topic for the week is "Budgeting for Better Management." The campus conference will dovetail with the program to be presented in 64 cities.

One section will discuss production control through budgeting. Another will deal with efficient office management from the standpoint of physical equipment, as well as personnel. These sectional meetings will occupy two hours each morning and afternoon. Luncheon and dinner meetings also are being arranged.

The conference method will be followed throughout, instead of lengthy platform talks. A designated leader will be relied upon to bring out the main points in each topic and general discussion will be relied upon to round out the consideration of each topic, as far as possible.

Industrial leaders and experts of wide experience have been obtained for the university sessions and officials of various Ohio industries are being invited to take an active part.

The section meeting on office management will be led by W. H. Leffingwell of the Taylor Society, New York City. The discussion of budgetary control of production will be led by J. O. McKinsey of the University of Chicago, who is author of several books on budgeting and managerial accounting.

Thursday, Oct. 23, a dinner is planned as one of the evening features. Friday, Oct. 24, the college of engineering, in conjunction with the Columbus Engineers' club, will present a program. Robert Kent, consulting engineer, will speak. Many of the visiting business men probably will remain over for the Chicago-Ohio State football game in the stadium, Oct. 25.

PRINCE OF WALES GOES TO DETROIT

Chicago, Oct. 14.—After a day of sight-seeing and a night of dancing which lasted well into the morning the Prince of Wales, wearing by the round of excitement, climbed aboard his special train early this morning while thousands crowded about the Dearborn Street station, gave him Chicago's departing message in tumultuous cheers. The train pulled out at 3:43 enroute to Detroit where today his royal highness will be a guest of Henry Ford.

Hangs Himself.
Cincinnati, Oct. 14.—Louis E. Smith, car distributor in the accountant's office here, hanged himself with a washing line in the basement of his home. A brother said he suffered a nervous breakdown following his wife's death.

STATIONS NOW HEARING RADIO FROM AIR LINER

Dirigible Will Head Directly For Mast at Lakehurst

Making 70 Miles An Hour
—Good Meals On Big Cruiser

Chatham, Mass., Oct. 14.—Encountering strong southwest winds the ZR-3 was compelled to decrease her speed to 25 miles an hour, according to a radiogram picked up by the marine station of the Radio Corporation of America at 10:11 o'clock this morning.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Driving west on her history-making flight from the old world to the new, the giant dirigible ZR-3 is making from 48 to 60 knots an hour and, barring mishaps, is expected to sight the American coast line sometime this afternoon, according to navy department dispatches this morning from Captain George W. Steele, the chief American observer aboard.

New York, Oct. 14.—America's eastern seaboard was a 2,000 mile listening post in answer to an unspoken "stand by" as radio signals from the ZR-3—now less than day away from her future home—came over the Atlantic with great clarity today. A clip close to 70 miles an hour, demolished the 1300 miles remaining at dawn between the dirigible and Lakehurst, N. J., where her German builders will deliver her to the United States navy.

The first faint message from the air cruiser was picked up shortly before midnight by the navy receiving post at the Battery.

"All well on board ship," Then clearer and clearer came the signals until at 2:30 a.m. stations ashore had no difficulty in hearing parts of the first long message received from the dirigible and the first detailed account of the progress of the voyage made directly to American shores.

It was from Captain George W. Steele addressed to the secretary of the navy. Scout cruisers along the path of the flight relayed it in full to the receiving station at Bar Harbor, Me., which passed it on to New York.

"The ZR-3 making good progress," it read. "Sighted San Miguel Island on port bow at 11:40 a.m. zone one time. Position at noon 35° 58' north 25° 00' west. Average speed 67.5 miles per hour."

"Air bumper first part of forenoon, cool latter part. She will set direct course from Azores to Lakehurst. Since blowing valves this morning, gas cells are about 90 percent full. Plenty of light inside hull. Light coming through after compartment and through windows near walk inside hull, but keel corridor is a lonesome place."

"Had excellent dinner today—soup, boiled ham and string beans with pudding. Crew getting accustomed to going without sleep. Crew playing phonograph, others writing letters. No card playing, however. Pico Island just ahead at 1:30 p.m. (Signed) "Steele."

International News Service, via Radio Corporation of America, received a direct message from Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the ZR-3 at 3:31 and at 4:25 a.m. the dirigible was heard picking up reports of the weather made by naval cruisers stationed along the line of flight.

The decision to lay a course straight for Lakehurst from the Azores probably would shorten the time in the air from Friedrichshafen to the mooring mast at Lakehurst, though it made it less likely that the air liner would first reach America at Virginia Capes and float over Washington and Philadelphia, enroute to its final landing place.

At the request of Dr. Eckener, the cruiser Milwaukee moved 450 miles from a station of Sable Island, and took up a position midway between the port of Fayal, the last port of hail from which the dirigible was sighted in the Azores, and Cape May.

The distance from Fayal to Lakehurst, via Bermuda is 2,690 nautical miles but the new course of the ZR-3 may slice off some distance from this total. The ZR-3 already had travelled 1300 miles since leaving the Azores.

Two messages came to the navy department from Captain Steele during the night. The first was identical with that picked up in New York, addressed to the secretary of the navy and reporting general conditions. The second came in after 4:00 o'clock this morning and told of the big ship having descended over the Azores to drop a bag of mail by parachute. This message was slightly garbled in transmission. It follows: "ZR-3 passed Azores this afternoon. Wonderful view of islands. Passed over patchwork method farming mosaic. Dropped bag personal mail for crew by parachute. Rose to 5,000 feet. Valve gas as ship was too tight and blow mist down (correct) (probably garbled)."

"One gas cell slightly torn in descending to flying height but immediately repaired without damage. Running three engines for economy, making 48 knots air speed. Light following breeze."

"Heading for Lakehurst. (Signed) "Steele."

THREE THOUSAND MASONS EXPECTED TO AID CEREMONIES

Approximately three thousand Masons, including representatives from the commanderies and Blue Lodges, of Yellow Springs, Urbana, Dayton, Troy, London and New Carlisle, will participate in the parade which will precede the laying of the cornerstone of the new Masonic Temple in Springfield, Wednesday.

Grand officers will officiate at the cornerstone laying. If weather conditions are unfavorable, the cornerstone laying ceremonies will be carried out in Memorial Hall. The event promises to be one of the most historic and impressive in the history of local Masonic circles.

The Blue Lodges of Springfield, four in number, have a membership of 2,500 and efforts are under way to have a full attendance on this occasion. All Blue Lodge masons will assemble with their officers at Memorial Hall where aprons will be distributed. Palestine Commandery will assemble in the Bushnell building.

All Master Masons are invited to participate in the parade. The line of march will be short, probably requiring less than thirty minutes marching time.

Music will be furnished by the boys' band of the Masonic Home and by other bands yet to be picked.

DELEGATE ATTENDS MASONIC MEETING

Lawrence A. Wagner, Xenia, Worshipful Grand Master of Xenia Lodge, No. 49, F. and A. M., left Tuesday morning for Cleveland where he will attend the three day annual convention of the Grand Lodges of Ohio, which meets there this year.

The twelve entrants were divided into three separate teams, composed of four players, each player in each team having the use of but one club, and regardless of the position of the ball, each player was forced to shoot her "lie" from that position.

A team captained by Mrs. C. L. Darlington, won the tournament. Mrs. Edward Davidson, Mrs. Harry LeSourd and Mrs. Steele Pogue were the other three players on the winning team.

Mrs. Walker Gibney had charge of the luncheon committee following the tournament and covers were laid for forty guests, at the club house at the regular Monday luncheon.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY KILLED BY TRAIN

Sidney, Oct. 14.—With the head severed, the mangled body of Earl Newman, 16, was found early Tuesday morning on the B. & O. railroad tracks near his home, two and one-half miles south of this city.

Young Newman was the stepson of Ross Rees, tenant on the William Bauer farm. The family moved there recently from Orem. He was a sophomore in the agricultural course at Sidney high school.

It is thought that the accident happened at four o'clock this morning, as a train goes south at that time.

The boy was called at the usual time this morning and when he failed to respond, it was found that he was not in his room. His clothes were lying on a chair near the bed. After a brief search the body was discovered dressed in night clothing.

Sidney officers were notified and it is thought that Newman met his death while walking in his sleep.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

Children With Rickets Need Cod Liver Oil

For weak, puny, under developed children—and especially those that have rickets—and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11 1/2 pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60 cents at Sayre & Hemphill's, H. C. Sohn's and druggists all over North America—but be sure and ask for McCoy's—the original and genuine.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by tuning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 15c and 30c.

A brush is an instrument made of hair, bristles, feathers, broom corn, set grass or other fibrous and flexible materials. In part, that is the definition in the standard dictionaries. Clean, wholesome brushes are the only kind we sell and there is any kind for any purpose. There is no danger from chemicals, disease, etc., because there is nothing unsanitary about any of them. It is far better to buy brushes here.

ONE DEMOCRAT SAYS HE IS NOT GOING TO LOSE ANY SLEEP IF COOLIDGE IS ELECTED

Another book dealing with President Coolidge has recently come off the presses. But it is something more than "another Coolidge book." It is unique in that it was written by an active and hard-fighting Democrat who was associated with the President for many years in the Massachusetts legislature, who rode with him in small local trains between Northampton and Boston, and who lived close enough to him at home to know the estimate of the neighbors of Calvin Coolidge.

Roland S. Sawyer, the evangelical clergyman who wrote this study of the President, declared that his purpose was neither that of a booster nor an apologist, but simply to set forth the man and the public servant as he knew him over a long period of years in order that people might have a better understanding of their President.

"One thing," he said, "is very certain; if the electorate elects Mr. Coolidge President I shall lose no sleep over the event. For eight years I was associated with President Coolidge in various branches of our state government. I saw how sincere is his desire to serve, how intensely he loves America and its people and institutions, how clearly his mind works as problems come before him, and how carefully and honestly he reached his conclusions—and I shall know America is safe in the hands of Calvin Coolidge."

"Few men see more surely the very heart of a question than Mr. Coolidge, though some may see it more quickly. Coolidge will be intensely loyal to American institutions. He is proud of America and he loves its people."

AMERICAN WOMEN'S GREAT OPPORTUNITY

President Coolidge in an address to the Daughters of the Revolution last April, emphasized the necessity of the womanhood of the country taking an intelligent interest in the affairs of the nation. He used these words:

"Good citizenship is neither intricate nor involved. It is simple and direct. It is every day common sense and justice."

"The determination of national policy that will be made in next November will turn quite as much upon the attitude of the women as upon the judgments of the men. So I come to you women, to say that your country wants not only your votes but your influence in all coming elections. By this I do not mean to appeal in behalf of any party. I appeal in behalf of our common country."

"Surely the womanhood of the nation, who go down into the Valley of the Shadow of Death for their sons and daughters, cannot long neglect to participate in elections that they and their children may continue to have the advantages of a government that is clean and wise and sound."

"As it was the initiation of America which made manhood suffrage a modern ideal for the world, so we want no wthe initiation of America to make citizen suffrage a demonstrated success for the world."

"I have absolute confidence that if American womanhood will exercise the right of franchise after fair, considerate and mature deliberation, voting for what is right as their best judgment shows them the right, the right will mightily prevail."

WILL AIR FLYING BE GREATLY INCREASED IN THE FUTURE

"Who names the parlor cars?" is as frequent a conundrum as "What becomes of the pins?" Some genius has bestowed names of Revolutionary patriots on the cars of the Congressional Limited. The twelve chosen were all signers of the Declaration. They never knew such luxury of travel in their time. One of them Caesar Rodney, who rose from a sickbed for his hasty horseback ride from Delaware, could have pointed a sharp contrast between his grievous discomfort and the swift ease of passage in 1924. The states and sages of old could not command the comforts that an immigrant in a day coach receives as he goes westward to follow the imperial star of labor. We now look back on the primitive conveyances of the Colonial era as men in time to come will regard our tentative 200 miles per hour in today's crude planes.

Now these grownup knickerbockers look all right on men who golf, But when I reach the club house then I want to get them off; And when I go out walking on the streets by night or day, I wear my good old trousers—I feel better dressed that way.

Mrs. M.: "Not long ago a reader inquired about removing a butter-colored stain from her dress. She can take out this stain by applying lemon juice and salt and then laying the material in the sun. I have tried it personally with good results."

Answer: It was good of you to write a letter giving us this information. It just proves that the world is full of unselfish people, doesn't it? I am sure your method is a splendid one. Here is another method I have just heard of: Wet the butter color stain thoroughly with glycerine and let stand overnight; in the morning wash the dress and spot should disappear.

THE DARK PLACES

The great fear of this world is fear of the dark.

The dark is just as natural as the light. Both are a part of the plan of life. It is also a fact that some of the greatest beauty that we experience comes right up out of the dark. Dark backgrounds rivet attention to the lighter shades and colors of the foreground.

Pearls live in the dark. The miner works in the dark for our fuel. Think of the sleeping brilliance of the diamond that has to be dug from deep ground.

White lilies have their feet and heart-life down in the mud.

You cannot adequately judge any human being until you have gone into the dark chapters of his life and read there of the dark nights and black gropings of his soul.

It takes great courage to enter dark places and pass through experiences that nestle in the night.

Yet that is the only way anyone is ever able to understand what life is all about—and only a few understand then.

The dark places, after all, are the enlightening places. He who has suffered great sorrow or defeat in one way or another becomes sobered. He thinks twice as much as the one who has floated down the stream looking at the lovely scenery, forgetting about what it is that makes the world go round.

Overcome fear and you step ahead. You step ahead into things—big things that illumine your soul and prove your calibre.

The greatest treasures of earth come from the dark, silent places; the treasures of gold and silver, precious stones, radium. And so does perfect love.

DEFENDING ARMY BEGINS ORDERLY RETREAT TO CITY

Shanghai, Oct. 14.—The vanquished defenders of Shanghai began an orderly retreat into the city, while the attacking Kiangsu troops occupied the Lungwha arsenals.

The positions to be occupied by thousands of defeated Chekiang troops has not been determined and foreign marines keep watchful guard at the settlement barriers.

Lu Yung Hsiang took a fortune with him when he fled. Looting of the native districts is feared, although Chi Hsieh Yuan's troops have been warned to respect the rights of civilians and especially foreigners in Shanghai.

The outcome of the two months' battle for Shanghai means that Chiao-son will be able to reinforce his ally, Wu Pei Fu, who is combating Chang Tso Lin in the north. Lu, Chang's ally, has failed him.

Fighting has broken out in Canton between labor troops and merchant volunteers. In the first skirmish 15 persons were killed and many wounded. The labor troops were defeated and a number were captured.

WOMEN ARE GIVEN PLACES IN GENERAL CHURCH COUNCIL

Columbus, Oct. 14.—The general assembly of the Council of Churches adopted a program calling for expansion to provide liberal representation of women, establishment of a radio broadcasting station in Columbus to eliminate possibility of "conflicting voices in the air," and creation of a commission to study the divorce problem. The organization, representing 16 affiliated Protestant denominations, also decided on a vigorous campaign to "get out the Christian vote, with careful avoidance of partisan politics," branded commercialism as the most pernicious influence in present-day Sunday recreation, and voted to participate actively in future social and sex hygiene education, in co-operation with the board of health and other agencies.

Hereafter every local council will have three representatives, one minister, one lay delegate and one woman. For every 20,000 or major fraction thereof over the first 20,000 church members, three additional representatives, similarly apportioned, will be allowed.

The commission to study the divorce question will consist of five members. Special attention will be given to passage of national uniform divorce legislation, to the practice of Protestant ministers in remarriage of divorces and the possibilities of education to promote a more serious attitude toward marriage on the part of both married and unmarried persons.

CONVICT KILLED BY PRISON GUARD

Moundsville, W. Va., Oct. 14.—A double tragedy was enacted here. Earl Blankenship, 22, of Clarksburg, was shot and killed and Harry McCracken, 23, of Fairmont, was wounded by guards in a break for liberty from West Virginia state prison. Blankenship had used a crudely made master key to open his cell and that of his companion. As they stepped into the corridor they were confronted by Guard N. G. Blake, whom they overpowered and bound with a bed sheet. Blankenship took Blake's gun and keys and started toward the main prison gates. They were forced to take cover on sight of other guards, however, and in the meantime Blake had crawled to the guardhouse and spread the alarm. Seeing they were trapped, Blankenship started firing with Blake's revolver, in an attempt to run the gauntlet of the guards. A fusillade from the rifles in the hands of the guards dropped them.

Steamboat Inspector Dead.
Gallipolis, O., Oct. 14.—Captain William H. Clark, 73, the oldest federal steamboat inspector on the Ohio river, is dead at Point Pleasant, W. Va. Captain Clark gained some prominence in his inspection of life preservers for the government at New York following the General Slocum disaster a few years ago, when that ship burned and several hundred passengers perished.

GREENE COUNTY TEACHERS DISPLEASED WITH CONDITION OF COURT HOUSE ASSEMBLY ROOM

Condition of the Court House Assembly Room which many organizations use for a meeting place came in for the criticism of Greene County teachers who attended a meeting there all day Saturday.

The teachers want the place made more presentable and more comfortable. They want better lighting, the seats repaired, the walls and fixtures freshened and the generally dingy condition done away with.

For that purpose they appointed a committee consisting of Prof. D. H. Barnes, Prof. M. E. Collins, Prof. J. W. Gowdy to see the County Commissioners and ask for the improvement.

The teachers would also like to secure a piano for the Assembly Room. They named a committee composed of Prof. W. R. Says, Mrs. Lucile Jones and Mrs. Mildred Foster to look after that matter.

Speakers at the meeting were Miss Ruth Jones a Junior Red Cross organizer recently back from work in Jugoslavia; W. S. Coy of the Ohio Teachers' Reading Circle; W. E. Kershner from the State Department of Education; Miss Edwina Morrow of Cincinnati and Superintendent Charles E. Oxley of Cedarville. Because of an over crowded program a talk on Arithmetic by Prof. S. E. Shupp of Clifton; led by Superintendent H. E. Zuber of a discussion of methods in arithmetic Osborn, and a talk by Dr. R. H. Grube and the general round table discussion allowed to go over until the next morning meeting.

Miss Morrow used a class of first grade pupils from the Spring Valley schools to illustrate the radical difference between present methods of teaching reading and those in use a few years ago. She was assisted in the demonstration by Miss Reva Spahr teacher of the class. Instead of stopping at each word reading is now taught by a sweep of the eye.

A discussion on silent reading was led by Superintendent Charles Oxley of Cedarville. W. E. Kershner of the State Department of Education in his talk "The Rainy Day for Teachers," explained the Ohio teachers' retirement system. He said the method is compelling teachers to lay by money which may be withdrawn if the teacher retires before the completion of thirty-five years in the work. He said that there could be no opposition to the system when it is thoroughly understood. Announcement of a 100 per cent enrollment of teachers in the teachers organizations was announced from Bath consolidated district, Cedarville, Ross, Jefferson, Clifton and Jamestown. Miss Golda Stackhouse was appointed enrollment secretary in Silvercreek Township, and Mrs. Mildred Watkins in Caesar Creek Township.

Finally found health in Kellogg's Bran after suffering long with constipation

Mr. Patch writes that Kellogg's Bran "solved his problem." It has solved the problem of constipation—mild and chronic—for thousands of others. It has brought relief when all else has failed because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read Mr. Patch's letter:

Dear Sirs: I have been a constant sufferer from constipation and have wondered what was the cause of it. I have tried about all the cereals I could think of, and finally tried Kellogg's Bran. This solved my problem. I feel 100 per cent better and I owe it to your Bran. Thanking you very kindly for this great cereal, I am Very respectfully,

Chester C. Patch, 761 Main St., Greenwood, Mass. For the permanent relief of constipation, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestines. It rids them of the dangerous poisons that lead to other diseases. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is delicious with milk or cream. You will like its nut-like flavor—so different from ordinary, tasteless bran. Sprinkle it over the cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Eat it in Kellogg's Bran muffins, griddle cakes and many other wonderful recipes given on the package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is made in Battle Creek and is served by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. It is sold by all grocers.

LEARN FROM MISTAKES

Mistakes are often more profitable than achievements, when men take them at their full value.

The lessons learned from mistakes do not make pleasant schooling. It takes a good man to admit he was wrong and find out the reason for it. Back of every failure lurks the truth.

A career built on many successes is built on sand. A success founded on failures is founded on rock.

PAUL FULLER SIGNS UP WITH IMPERIAL 11

Several new faces will be seen in the lineup of the Xenia Imperial football team when it takes the field Sunday afternoon against Tipp City. It was announced Tuesday.

The Imperials have been strengthened by the addition of several new players, including Paul Fuller, who has been practicing with the Koores 29 of Dayton, but who was forced eleven, of Dayton, through inability to attend all practices. With Paul's addition, the Imperials feel certain of continuing its winning streak at the expense of the Tipp eleven.

L. Kileen, has also announced his intention of trying out for one of the backfield stations, and Bob Toohy is out for guard. Bob weighs about 160 pounds.

Tipp City is credited with having an unusually good team this year, and boasts that its goal line has not been crossed by an opposing eleven this season, although it sustained its only defeat this year at the hands of Trotwood. That team holds a victory over Tipp by a 3 to 0 score.

With the addition of the new players, the Imperials' chances for a successful season have taken a considerable boom, as the material added will strengthen the squad, in the matter of weight and ability, as there can be no doubt of the ability of the new players.

When the Springfield Bulldogs handed the Imperials their only setback in the inaugural game of the season, here, the Springfield outfit considerably outweighed the locals, to which fact the defeat may be attributed, but the Xenia crowd is dicker for another game with the Bulldogs, and should they be successful in arranging a contest at a future date, the Imperials promise the upstarters will receive the surprise of their lives in a second go.

The Sunday affair will start at 2:45 o'clock, at Washington Park, with competent officials in charge.

STATEMENT BY CAPTAIN ZELL ON GRID GAME

Captain Allan Zell, of the Central High School football team, in a "post mortem" of the Xenia-Middletown game last Saturday, takes all the blame for the abrupt termination of the fracas in the third period, when he walked off the field with the ball under his arm, thereby forfeiting the game to the Middies, saying that he took the action entirely on his own initiative, and his action was not prompted by any orders to that effect from Coach John Ballantyne.

Captain Zell carried the ball off the field twice. The first time, becoming dissatisfied with the decision of Umpire McCray of Dayton, and backed up by the fans, he walked from the field with the pigskin.

Later, when it had been agreed by both teams to continue play, it was found that the referee had left the field, thinking the game at an end, and Zell again went on the field, after the ball had been returned to the team, and took the ball away, supposedly, it was thought, following orders from the coach.

Zell says that this statement is incorrect, and that he took the action upon his own accord, not wishing to continue play under the conditions, and wishing the game forfeited.

Burns Prove Fatal

Toledo, Oct. 14.—Burns suffered when she played about a bonfire caused the death of Florence Schnaak, 6, west of Toledo. Her dress ignited when she fell into the fire.

BIG GRID GAMES WILL MARK END OF WEEK WITH MUCH AT STAKE

New York, Oct. 14.—Sectional, inter-sectional and possibly national ranking may be determined by the outcome of Saturday's football games, comprising in toto the most impressive list ever compiled for an October week end. Even at this immature date it is altogether possible that the date will uncover a team that is destined to gain national recognition as the champions of 1924.

Illinois and Michigan are potential candidates for that high honor. They will meet in the big number of the Western Conference schedule on Saturday and barring a tie will decide middle western supremacy for the moment. This game outranks in consequence even the Army-Notre Dame affair at the Polo grounds, fairly bristling as it does with sectional significance. Unlike the Army and Notre Dame, which conduct an annual series to the Army's annual regret, Michigan and Illinois haven't met in some years. Both laid just claim to the conference title in 1923, however and Saturday's game was arranged with the idea of deciding something. It will.

Other meetings of consequence in the west call for Wisconsin to play Minnesota; Nebraska, to take on Colgate and Southern California to face the Oregon Aggies in a coast conference game. All are of almost national import.

But they are no more so than the Dartmouth-Yale game at New Haven, nor the Princeton-Navy at Princeton. Usually there are eight days in the week every time two such meetings occur at one and the same time. Dartmouth is on its way back after several misfit seasons and thinks it has a possible championship. Yale was leader of last year and many thought it had the best team in the country. As a study of concentrated class this game will do until one better turns up.

Neither Princeton nor the Navy has early strength this year but big times will be big times even when they use small time stuff.

Harvard and Holycross, Cornell and Rutgers, Syracuse and Boston College and Washington and Jefferson and Carnegie Tech also will furnish the big moments in the east. In the west, barring games already mentioned, it will be Chicago and Indiana and Stanford and Oregon.

The south must look to Tulane and Vanderbilt and Penn State and Georgia Tech for its leaders. A defeat for any of the teams mentioned while not necessarily conclusive, would have a definite effect upon its final status.

The same applies to the games involving Alabama and Sewanee and Kentucky and Washington and Lee.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

Many a store is judged by its advertising. Customers are kept away or attracted by the appeal made in newspapers.

Advertising reaches several times as many people as the number who actually enter the store. For this reason, great care should be taken that advertising faithfully portrays the character and atmosphere of the business. Extravagant claims made through the press which are not lived up to destroy the confidence of customers who came into the store expecting more than they were able to get.

It is far better to have advertising understate a value than to overstate it.

YOUNG MOTHERS IN OHIO

Records show that many of the children of these child-mothers die soon after birth. The oldest mother found was 58.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Considers the New Styles.

By Jay V. Jay

The ensemble suits and separate coats for winter are almost sure to be fur trimmed. Women have found such trimming more satisfactory than wearing separate furs, except with tailored suits or street dresses early in the season. This suit is of tweed trimmed with beaver. It just suits Polly.

Adelaide's suit is of kasha, one of the most fashionable fabrics of the season. It's trimmed with leopard which may really be leopard or which may be dyed pussy cat. Perhaps that's why it's spelled as it is. Dyed furs of all kinds and colors are widely used for their decorative qualities.

Beige kashmir was what Mitzi chose for her new suit. The dress is straight with a finely pleated skirt. The short packet is trimmed with brown rabbit fur just to prove that not only expensive furs are effective, it's a theory easily proved by the new fall and winter fashions.

Aunt Sophia buys an ensemble suit, too. It has a coat very nearly full length, is made of kasha and is trimmed with Alaskan seal, one of the most fashionable of winter furs. These straight-line modes suit Aunt Sophia who pretends to be neither young nor thin, but succeeds in looking most attractive.

FROSH AND SOPHS AT ANTIOCH BURY OFFICIAL HATCHET

(By John Thompson)

Tellow Springs, Oct. 14.—In the presence of the entire student body of Antioch College, the sophomore and freshman class presidents, solemnly buried the hatchet, Saturday, signifying the end of class rivalry. The president of the sophomore class, Harry E. Clough of Ashburnham, Mass., and Henry B. Bond of Wyoming, Ohio, the leader of the first year men, covered up the hatchet (a fire axe) to the tune of funeral music. This act was followed by salutes and rockets. From the distance a bugler blew taps and the strife between the classes was officially ended.

At six o'clock supper was served on the campus instead of in the dining room as usual. Following the meal, a huge fire was lighted and the students indulged in community singing. The Freshmen provided the rest of the program, which consisted of songs, dances and other stunts. The biggest hit was scored by William Montgomery of Chicago, in a love song to Lyman Heddon of East Montclair, N. J.

At the end of the program, the freshmen, each bearing a paddle and a sign paraded by the Dean, who read the caption on the signs. The winner voted so by acclamation was Lyman Heddon. His sign read "The Tail of a Frosh is never told." Every Frosh then signed his name on the declaration of independence in the shape of a huge paddle. This paddle was afterward presented to the dean. Following the ceremony the paddles were burned, and the hatchet buried.

The freshmen may remove their green hats, and the women their ribbons now. This was decided when the fresh beat the sops in three out of the five athletic events that took place during the first week of the school year.

The affair was managed by Roy C. Voils, of Plainfield, Ind. He was assisted by committees from the two participating classes. The fresh committee was composed of Cornelius Hurlbert, Springfield, Mass., Jack Harrison, Rockville Center, N. Y., Burton Johnson, Memphis, Tenn., Albert Brownrigg, Middletown, O., H. B. Bond, and Lyman Heddon. The sophomore committee consisted of Alvin Arnsheim, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Ray Hartmayer and George Gould of Buffalo, N. Y., Roderick O'Connor of Portland, Ore., Voils and Clough.

The Luxury of Love

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "Love or Fame?" ETC.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

MARY HAYWARD, a famous beauty, for six months has been nominally the wife of

SIR NIGEL CAVENDISH, who promised her to release her at the end of that time, knowing that she loved

"BRUCE GILLIAN, and had married him during a misunderstanding with Bruce, leaving Nigel at a camp in the Canadian Rockies, she goes to Seattle to join Bruce and make arrangements for their marriage annulled. But

WILMA RAYMOND, a friend of Nigel's, sends to the more sensational newspapers a story stating that she has eloped with Bruce, and recalling the sensational murder years ago of a man whose name was linked with Mary's. Determined to clear everything up, Mary leaves for the East without waiting for Bruce, leaving him a note insisting that she cannot marry him because of the publicity she has attracted. She goes to Maine to find CAMILIA WAITE, who cleared her of suspicion at the time of the murder by claiming that they were together that night. Camilia tells a group of their friends that Mary killed Neale Phillips, but refuses to tell more until Jim Atwood, a cousin of Mary's, says that he will finish the story if she doesn't. Camilia admits that she sent Mary to get letters she had written Phillips, and that Mary killed him in trying to prevent him from killing himself.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XLVIII—TOGETHER!

MARY went back to New York more light heartedly than she had left it. The Neale Phillips affair had straightened itself out so much better than she had dared hope it would—perhaps there was a chance that somehow she and Bruce would be brought together too.

Jim Atwood had promised to take care of things for her; Jim was a power in the land, and could keep Camilia's confession from becoming public in a way that would hurt Mary.

"The case will come up again, of course," he had told her. "But it can be managed so that you won't be bothered much; I'll take care of the whole thing. Now, why don't you stay with Vera and me this fall, till you get your bearings? I'll see Nigel, and get this divorce matter straightened out; he'll let you get the decree. I'm sure—it's a mere formality, anyway; the marriage could be annulled in two seconds, with his consent, and I can get that."

"You're a dear, and I'll be more than glad to let you help me," Mary had answered. "But I can't stay with you, really, I have well, I have plans of my own. Let me go ahead with them. I'll get in touch with you later."

But Jim's plans were unnecessary. She telephoned to her aunt's home that evening to see if there were any messages; there was one, a telegram from Nigel. "Sorry about newspaper story," it ran. "Not my fault. Get decree yourself if you want to."

Then she could get Jim to manage the annulment proceedings for her. And now her way was clear—she thought of him as she dined alone that evening. It was a luxury to think of him—she had denied herself that luxury for so long. Things had been cleared up, of course, but she still felt that she could not marry him. "A Sunday supplement wife," she called herself in that moment. "A wife whose name is linked forever with sensational events. It wouldn't be fair to him. Mrs. Bruce Gillian can't be a woman whom people will remember as Neale Phillips' murderer, and Nigel Cavendish's cast-off wife."

With all her heart she longed for a clean, decent life to offer him, the life lived by so many women all over the country, women who had been truly womanly. Instead of rushing madly after excitement and extravagance as she had.

After dinner she dismantled her little apartment, knowing that she could not sleep, and longing to tire herself so that when at last she went to bed she would not be awake, torn by great, dry sobs. The joyous hopefulness that she had known for that short time in the surf at the Beach Club had left her; she could not see any chance of happiness anywhere. But she was still determined to show a smiling face to the world, and find some work to do that would make a place for her.

She had furnished her little apartment lovingly, and since the day when she and Bruce had said farewell there had loved it more than ever. To take down the pictures and put away the shining brasses and shabby, well-read books seemed like burying all that she held dear. But she went about it without hesitating, unless she went through life with her eyes on the step that she was taking she would never have the courage to go on.

She was nearing the end of her task when the chimneys on a neighboring tower struck twelve, sending their message through the noise-filled night of the city. She leaned back for an instant on her heels, then knelt again, eager to be finished with her task. It was then that she heard a step in the hall.

For a moment she was afraid. It might be burglars—though in that unpretentious apartment it seemed hardly likely that thieves would expect to find anything worth while. She worked on, until the sound of her front door's opening swung her around to see who had come in.

Bruce Gillian stood on the threshold. She could not believe her eyes for a moment; then, springing to her feet she ran to him. He held her close without speaking.

Not for long moments could they settle down to explanations. Mary tried then to tell him what she had determined. He silenced her with kisses.

"Do you think that matters to me?" he demanded. "Do you think I'd care if you had committed all the crimes in the calendar? I love you. You're the only woman in the world for me. You belong to me, and just the minute you're free we're going to be married. You've paid dearly enough for the love that has belonged to you all along; I'm going to spend the rest of my life trying to be worthy of you."

Mary rested her head in the curve of his broad shoulder. At last she was to have what she had so long envied other women—the luxury of the love of the man of her heart.

It is safe to say that in nine homes out of ten in this city, the attic remains unfinished—the same as the day the house was built.

Change it to a good-looking, useful room or two—a place for the children to play, an extra bedroom, or a radio station for "the boy."

Sheetrock will do it.

Sheetrock makes solid, fireproof, permanent walls and ceilings at low cost. Just nail the broad, high sheets of gypsum to the joists or studding.
